Too tried to make looking closely out by see now straight
Why on a silence and the minds in apart
Never in a tears even if you are bitter at the nights
Like the flower exposed by a rain

July 19—Aug 18, 2018

It's loving your face exposing as much as you got angry by your very front Me had to have seen you mutually more Never be away ,cause my heart to be in pain, for meeting anyone else

Kiss in tears once more, has loved you even more than anyone
The last kiss so only once more
in holding you onto my heart

Even on the two of us in quite much of memories smiled every days
The night breeze's calling'em meantime for their love's ending As any time in grief should pass by anytime it never present dreams from tomorrow

Kiss in tears once more, has loved you even more than anyone
The last kiss so only once more which I am offering for you

On my going to live in having to have been jilted
As much as I should never get good has my grief never disappeared

Kiss in tears once more, has loved you even more than anyone
Were it on such it should never be traceable in any words
That the destiny on the summers

Kiss in tears once more, has loved you even more than anyone
The last kiss so only once more
in holding you onto my heart
